STRONG TABOR TEAM TRIMMED DECISIVELY

On October 22 the red and white defeated the Tabor Academy team in one of the finest exhibitions of football the gridders have put on this year, 12 to 0. Tabor arrived with considerable reputation attached to its team, but threatened only once. The features of the game were Hart's twisting dash of twenty-five yards and Smith's seventy yard runback of a punt, both for scores.

Tabor kicked off and Hart pulled off a thirty five yard runback. Dummer had slightly the better of the offensive thrusts and the punting during the first period, but neither team came near scoring. In the second period Dummer got a break early on an exchange of punts, the wind holding Skelton's for little gain, and on the first play Hart broke off tackle and aided by fine interference eluded the secondaries for the first score. Dummer nearly scored again when a long march from mid-field stalled on the six yard line. A pass grounded over the goal line lost Dummer the ball and the opportunity of scoring.

In the third period Dummer continued to push the Tabor team back and demonstrated its fine offense by keeping the ball well in the opponents territory for the whole period. An opportunity to score was again lost when a second pass was grounded over the line. From this point the team from the Cape started a threatening march. With Mudge as the chief ground-gainer the heavier Tabor team carried the ball over the mid-field mark for the first time during the game. During the fourth period the Tabor team looked set to score, but the Red presented a stone wall defense and held for downs. Hart's fine punting soon carried the ball out of danger, and with hardly any time to play Norman Smith caught a punt on his own thirty and with the rest of the team as interference sprinted down the field for six more points. The drop-kick for the extra point failed as did the first.

The whole team showed a great improvement, the offensive and defensive work being the best thus far shown by the line.

PASSING ATTACK DEFEATS LAWRENCE

On October 29 the Dummer team journeyed to Groton for the annual tilt with Lawrence Academy. As usual the game was hard and close and Dummer came out on top because she capitalized her fine forward passing attack in the final minutes of play. Dummer had the edge in the contest, but it looked like they would lose by the margin of a point after touchdown. Dummer threatened the Blue's goal more closely and more frequently then they threatened Dummer's, and the 13 to 7 score was about a good comparison of the two teams. When Wally Temple fell over the line for the winning count, there remained but ninety seconds to play.

Lawrence received the kickoff and was unable to gain. Smith ran back the punt for a good gain, and the Red started a march down the field. Lawrence only held inside the ten yard line and on third down Smith assayed a pass that was intercepted by the much-tooted Hootstein who followed the sidelines all the way down the field for a touchdown and Dummer's first taste of Hootstein. He followed this with a drop kick for the point after. Dummer received the kickoff and after gaining a great deal of yardage in the exchange of punts due to Hart's unusually fine punting and Smith's long run-backs, they again came close to the Blue goal. Here Lawrence held and got the ball on downs. When Worcester attempted a punt from his own ten yard line, Bert Temple was in on him and blocked the kick. He picked it up and ran to the one foot line where he was nailed from behind, but brother Wally went over on the next play. Smith missed the try for the extra point. This 7 to 6 score was the margin at the half.

All through the second half the teams were closely matched and by the middle of the last period it looked as though Dummer would get another undeserved defeat. But when Page entered the game and Hart started to call signals the aspect of the game changed. After a short time out Dummer went into a tricky forward passing formaton and a beautiful pass went from Hart to Crosby for a fifty yard gain. On the next play a short pass, Hart to Bottger, gained about eight, and on the next play a pass from Hart to Temple scored the winning points. Hart kicked the extra point. Lawrence made a determined effort to win, and one pass from Graney to Hootstein looked dangerous, but Dummer finally took the ball on downs. When the period ended the

DUMMER BARELY WINS FROM BELMONT HILL

On November 5 the Dummer football team, in defeating the Belmont Hill School 7 to 0 at Belmont, put on the raggedest exhibition of football of the season. There was no offensive punch, no charge, and no unity and all the essentials of good football were missing. Norman Smith scored the only touchdown on a twenty yard run, catching the secondaries off balance by reversing his field.

During the first half Belmont threatened, and Dummer played the weakest kind of football. Several times Belmont brought the leather under the very shadow of Dummer's goal posts before the line stiffened. Hart's fine punting aided materially in the defensive work. Late in the half Smith pulled off his scoring run, and Hart drop-kicked the extra point.

In the second half the Red defense was much better, but there was still no punch to the offense. Belmont was kept on the very goal line, but Dummer didn't have the punch to put it over. Wally Temple actually scored once by intercepting a lateral, but the referee ruled that the ball was dead where Wally had fallen down, and he was recalled. Watson muffed an easy one on the very goal line for another score. Hart missed three attempted field goals that were not too difficult. However, Dummer won in spite of her slump and is expected to recover during the week.

DUMMER DEFEATS SANBORN SEMINARY

On November 16 the Dummer football team made an already fine season perfect by defeating Sanborn Seminary in the Haverhill Stadium 21 to 18. After running up a two touchdown lead in the first five minutes of play, the Red had to come from behind in the last five minutes to turn the trick. The game was scheduled to be played in the Stadium on Armistice Day for the benefit of the American Legion, but the heavy rain caused the postponement. The result gives Dummer a three to one advantage in games played with Sanborn, and also makes the second successive win for the Red.

Captain Bottger kicked off and the ball bounced off the Sanborn center, Wally Temple recovering it for a short run. Sanborn held for downs and Hart punted over the goal line. Dummer held and recovered a fumble on the thirty. Smith, Crosby, and Hart took the ball to the five yard line on successive rushes. Three tries of tackle failed to gain measurably and on the fourth down Smith plunged through the weak center for the first score. Hart's drop-kick barely went astray. Again Bottger kicked off, and the team held for downs. Barber's punt went to Dummer's twenty five, and Crosby plunged through the center for eight. On the next play Hart made a wide sweep around his own right end and aided by a five man interference sprinted seventy yards for a second score. This time his drop was accurate and Dummer was leading 13 to 0 with the game scarcely under way. At the beginning of the second period Sanborn came back with an offense of its own and Dummer finally held to get the ball on its own twenty five. At this point Brown pulled his only bad pass since the first game, the ball going over Wally's head and Johnson recovering on the fifteen. After two scant gains through the line, the speedy Murphy tore around his right end for a touchdown. Deas tried a line buck for the extra point, but failed to gain. For the remainder of the half the ball did not approach either goal, although both teams contributed clever runs and passes.

Sanborn came out after the half determined to score and did it. Starting from their forty five Barber reeled off long runs on a well executed cut off tackle and practically unaided carried the ball over the line. Deas missed a drop for the extra point and Dummer still led 13 to 12. The Sanborn defense was improving, and the Dummer team appeared to be weakening. Hart's long punts staved off further scoring during the period.

EDITORIAL

The present senior class seems to be suffering from the example of its predecessors in the matter of the customary senior privileges. One of the most valued, that of room permission during evening study hall, has been withdrawn this year and the seniors would like very much to have this privilege restored long enough to prove that they are either capable or incapable of the privilege on their own merits. Being judged on the merits of last year's graduating class is hardly fair to a class which has shown that in the first two months' work they rank high among the leaders. One "B", four "C's", and a "D" show some industry for a second month's rating, and two "B's", one "C", and two "D's" are not bad for the first month, if after trial the sudden privilege goes to the collective heads of the seniors, the withdrawal of the privilege could not be complained of; but being put in a class with last year's seniors is not at all flattering to the present incumbents of their domicile.

The scrubs got a great deal of valuable experience as well as fun out of their schedule. The results were: Dummer 0, Newburyport Freshmen 0; Dummer 19, Perley Free School 6; Rockport 13, Dummer 0; Dummer 0, Newburyport Freshmen 0; Dummer 13, Perley Free School 12. Won two, tied two, and lost one. The promising material was Robinson, Fernandez, Hessian, Sleight, Hill, and Hosmer.

News of Interest

The new fieldstone garage is taking shape rapidly. It is situated next to the old garage and there will be a doorway to connect the buildings. The foundation and walls are nearly completed.

The old board track is now laid in position and fitted ready for the coming winter. No chances were taken on letting the frost keep us from setting up the track this year.

The boards walks are also in position on the campus ready for the first snow.

Following the football season the members of the first squad were given an athletic vacation until after the Thanksgiving recess. Days of leisure have been scarce all fall.

The football banquet will be held the year on December 19, and the usual array of former grid notables, and representatives will be present.

The hockey situation is dubious at present. No schedule has yet been arranged, but if there is ice to practice on there will probably be a team. The sport is popular and there will be plenty of candidates if the sport is allowed to continue.

The Honor Roll for the second month of the year consists of Albani 87 percent, Moulton 83 percent, Levin 82 percent, and Capron 80 percent.

For each month that one attains the Honor Roll there is an extra day granted at Thanksgiving. The recess this year lasts from recess Wednesday morning until 10 p. m. Thursday night.

The fact that Dummer had no games on either of the past two Saturdays allowed many to attend the Harvard-Brown and Harvard-Yale games.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Brush spent the evening before the Harvard-Yale game at the school.

We see by the Boston papers that Thayer Academy claims to have the most consistent right to the private school championship this year. The Dummer team stands very well if the figuring is based on comparative scores. It is interesting to see that Thayer barely nosed out Tabor by the margin of a safety (2 to 0) while Dummer had a two touchdown margin over Tabor.

The Belmont Hill game was scheduled for the Byfield playstead, but the Belmont authorities had too deep a respect for the infantile paralysis in Haverhill and insisted that we visit Belmont this year instead of next.

Early last week the football team visited the Haverhill stadium to scrimnage the Brown and Gold. Considering the great advantage Haverhill had in weight and maturity Dummer did well although Haverhill could gain ground practically at will. After an hour and a half of scrimmage Haverhill scored three touchdowns and Dummer one, but this meant little as neither team had to make a first down to retain the ball.

On Armistice Day, after the Sanborn game had been cancelled Dummer held a scrimmage with the Danvers High outfit. The Red scored practically at will.

The second team finished their season with a 13 to 12 victory over Perley Free School of Georgetown. Robinson and Fernandez were the stars in the victory.

After the Sanborn game the players were allowed to attend the theatre in Newburyport. This was an unusual and greatly appreciated privilege for a Wednesday night.

The Dummer players were numbered for the first time in the history of the game at Dummer for the Sanborn game in the stadium.

Following the Thanksgiving recess the teams will be organized for intramural basketball as has been the custom in recent years.

Discussions of the merits of our football opponents have led to the following selections for an all-opponents team: l. e., Milroy of Lawrence Academy; lt, Richardson of Amesbury; lg, Mallett of Amesbury; c, Cross of Lawrence Academy; rg, Boyle of Amesbury; rt, Cobb of Tabor; re, Smart of Browne & Nichols; qb, Graney of Lawrence Academy; lb, Hootstein of Lawrence Academy; rh, Murphy of Sanborn; fb, Worcester of Lawrence Academy. This gives us five men from Lawrence, three from Amesbury, and one each from Tabor, Browne & Nichols, and Sanborn. There is considerable credit due to Cadoo of Sanborn and Pond of Belmont as tacklers, Hadley of Tabor as a center, and Clarke of Amesbury, Barber of Sanborn, Hurlburt of Belmont, and Mudge of Tabor as backs.

On Sunday afternoon, November 20, the choir of St Pauls Church of Newburyport, consisting of forty male voices entertained us for nearly an hour in the gymnasium. Their work is excellent and we hope we can hear them many more times this year.

DUMMER DEFEATS SANBORN IN THRILLING GAME

In the final period a punt took a bad kick and struck Temple in the shin when he did not intend to touch it. Sanborn recovered on the thirty and this paved the way to another touchdown. Barber reeled off fifteen on the tackle play and Murphy sped around the end for the score. Murphy missed the try for the point. With four minutes to play, however, the Red came back. Smith ran back the kick-off to his forty. After a few short plunges, Hart snapped a twenty yard pass to Wally Temple who reeled off thirty more before he was downed on the three yard line. It was a beautiful run and he was tripped and knocked down several times before anyone could make him stay down. With four chances to make three yards however Dummer failed, and the Blue took the ball practically on the line. On the first play a punt was half blocked and a Sanborn man punched it out constituting a safety. Now the Seminary lead was 18 to 15. Dummer received after the safety and by its passing attack soon had the ball close to the line. Two bucks failed, but a flat pass to Smith put over the winning touchdown. Hart's drop hit the upright and failed. When the game ended the Red had made two first downs and had the ball on the fifteen yard line. It was a hard and grueling battle and exciting throughout with many outstanding stars.

Alumni Notes

Eddie Woodward and Lawson were rooters at the Belmont Hill football game.

Bus Hamilton has received a Sterling Scholarship at Yale and is getting along very well. He is drawing for the Yale Record and has also had a cover accepted. This is quite an honor for a freshman and will go a long way toward his making the board.

1928

Charlie White was another rooter at the Belmont Hill game. Later in the week he visited school with his old friend "Speed" Jones.

Doc Hinds was a rabid rooter at the Sanborn game in Haverhill, and he spent the evening at the school.

1924

Trav Ingham, a Yale senior, visited school on the eve of the Harvard-Yale game. Trav is captain of the cross country team, but he is still slightly hampered by his injury earlier in the year. The jarring-up and subsequent limping have taken just the fine edge off his work although he is doing well. When Yale "took" the undefeated Princeton team over the New Haven hills, Trav was the third Yale man to finish.

Jimmie Gardiner is graduating from Yale this year and plans to take up law work next year.

Bill English is now Yale '29 and out for crew.

"Ty" Sherman captained the Norwich University team through what was destined to be a most successful season until the flood spoiled it all. Norwich was headed for the Vermont football championship, but had to cancel the last game when the flood came. "Ty" was the quarterback and star of the team.
